

Planetary Health: Emerging Opportunity in the Intersections of Human Health and Earth's Natural Systems

ESA Discussion roundtable

Tuesday, August 3, 2021 6:30-7:30 PM EST / 10:30-11:30 PM UTC/ Wednesday, August 4, 2021 8:30-9:30 AM Sydney

Lin Meng

Moderator
Postdoc, Climate and Ecosystem
Sciences Division, Lawrence
Berkeley National Laboratory

Tony Capon

Panelist
Director of Monash
Sustainable Development
Institute, Monash University

Saleemul Huq

Panelist
Director, International Center for
Climate Change & Development,
Independent University Bangladesh

Francesca Hopkins

Panelist
Assistant Professor, Dept. of Environmental Sciences, University of California Riverside

Robert Dyball

Panelist
Senior Lecturer, Fenner School of
Environment and Society,
Australian National University

Chiho Watanabe

Panelist
Professor/Executive Advisor to the President (Planetary Health),
Nagasaki University

This event brings panelists from diverse perspectives to discuss new opportunities in Planetary Health, including climate adaptation, food system, public health, and changing environment.

All are welcome to join! Register in advance for this event:

<https://lbnl.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJcucOiorT0oG9E-RVziQBm603Bm4vcQ67G>

Sponsored by

ESA Human Ecology Section
@HumanEcology

